

Kushti Bok Member's Code of Conduct

All members commit to represent our communities in a positive and progressive way.

All Kushti Bok decisions are made by group members democratically. To maintain the right to vote on decisions made within the group the member must attend a minimum of 50% of meetings.

Any new members are welcomed at the discretion of the group.

Public statements representing the group made by individuals must be approved by the group.

Individuals can not use Kushti Bok for personal gain.

If a member decides to leave the group they will inform the group as soon as possible and return any Kushti Bok equipment.
